

The National Association of Women in Construction

Open House & Elections

6:00pm

Wednesday, June 23, 2021

No 1 of Rhode Island

1926 Smith Street, North Providence, RI 02911

Join us for our first in-person event of the year. You can learn more about what our Chapter has been working on this year, sign up to serve on a committee and network with members old and new. We will also formally elect our slate of candidates for the 2021/2022 Board. If you know someone who would be interested in joining NAWIC bring them along. This event will be held outdoors and refreshments will be served.

Mission:

NAWIC RI promotes and supports the advancement of women in the construction industry while inspiring the next generation of working women.

Vision:

NAWIC is the premier professional association of RI, offering valuable resources and meaningful community outreach. Our members enthusiastically support each other professionally and personally while inspiring the next generation of young women to join the construction industry.
